

IMPROVEMENTS ON SECONDARY ROADS PLANNED

State Highway Representatives, Commissioners In Conference

MORE THAN $40,000 ALLOTTED COUNTY

Salem - Franklin Square, Salem-Winona Work On Program

LISBON, Feb. 27.—State highway representatives and county commissioners are conferring on plans for a secondary road construction program for the current year. The state highway department did not participate in any new road work in this county last year, and no highways were improved under county authority.

More Than $40,000 Allotted
Between $40,000 and $50,000 will be allotted the county this year from the federal highway appropriation for Ohio and this means, according to county commissioners, the improvement of considerable mileage under the secondary road program.

Among the major improvements in this program will be the grading and top surfacing of the West Point-Gavers road, and also the seven miles of dirt road northeast from here to East Fairfield. Improvement of the latter road will reduce the highway distance between East Palestine and Lisbon by more than five miles, it is said. Grading and surfacing of the new Garden-Moultrie road has been included in this proposed program, and completion of this project will provide an improved highway east and west from the county home to the Columbiana-Salem county line.

Improvement of two miles of dirt road in sections 26 and 27 in Franklin township, westward from the Salineville-Summitville road also has been proposed, and this highway will connect with a new road to be built in Carroll county to tap the Columbiana county road.

Other Projects Listed
Another major secondary road improvement proposed is that extending southeast from Salem to Franklin Square thence southeast to East Fairfield, where there will be connection with the East Fairfield-East Palestine road.

It has also been proposed to rebuild the narrow brick highway extending south from Salem to Winona, this being a section of State highway 35.
The proposed road improvement as outlined will be completed with federal funds, but, it is said, the reconstruction of State route 14 between Columbiana and Washington will be financed by both federal and state funds. No county funds will be used in these road projects.

In the event funds are available, it has been proposed to rebuild State route 14 between Washington and Salem. Plans for the Columbiana-Washingtonville section have been completed, but the section between Washingtonville and Salem, both surveys and plans remain to be completed. Work on the road between Salem and Columbiana will be eliminated where possible.

Negro Ex-Convict Kills Two Women

MANGUM, Okla., Feb. 27.—The brutal beating of a mother and her daughter by a Negro ex-convict was carried today by three deaths.
Mrs. Alice Wilson, 31, died here last night of injuries received when she was hit with a brick by the Negro, Willie Jones, struck her with a hoe at her home near Blair last Thursday. Her five-year-old daughter, Alice Othello, also beaten by the Negro, died a few hours after she was killed while trying to escape from a posse.

RAILROAD COACH BURIED BY SNOW

Four Believed Dead As Car Is Swept to Bottom of Canyon

(By Associated Press)
WALLACE, Idaho, Feb. 27.—Four missing persons were believed dead today, buried under tons of snow that roared down Coeur d'Alene mountain and swept a railroad passenger coach to the bottom of a debris-littered canyon.

The avalanche slid down the steep mountainside at dusk yesterday and ripped the coach from the rear of a two-car branch line train.

The tragedy occurred about 200 miles east of Snoqualmie Pass in the Cascade range where three persons were killed in a snowslide Sunday.

A rescue crew of 75 found two injured passengers in the wreckage of the splintered car, but the lookout summit station reported four persons were missing. The summit operator said:

"Unlucky they will be found alive."

The missing were: Thomas Byall, conductor, and F. A. McLean, brakeman, both of Missoula, and an unidentified man and woman, both passengers.

Harry Olson, Wallace track driver, saw the snowslide break loose and start its plunge down the slope.

"I heard the deafening roar of the slide," he said.

"I jumped out of my truck and ran. The avalanche just touched the truck as it swept by. It looked like a whole mountain-side. Trees and debris were whirled along in the snow."

The avalanche, bearing snow 12 feet deep, swept across the Northern Pacific railroad track as an engine pulled a mail car and the lone passenger coach slowly toward Wallace, a snowplow clearing its way.

The blizzard in which the catastrophe occurred added 15 inches of snow to the more than 10 feet already piled in the mountains.

Akron Rubber Strike Continues; M'Grady Seeking Real Cause

(By Associated Press)
AKRON, Feb. 27.—Edward F. McGraw, department of labor mediator, plunged further into issues of a 10-day strike at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., today while Gov. Martin L. Davey studied an appeal by non-strikers to "protect us and let us work."

Picket lines thrown around the company's plants and offices have resulted in idleness for more than 14,000 employees. The company has declined to resume operations until an injunction, limiting pickets to groups of ten at each gate, becomes "fully effective."

Lyle Carruthers, spokesmen for a committee of eight claiming to represent 13,500 of the employees, told the governor "it's not a strike, it's a mob rule, caused by outside agitators. We appealed to the city police and to the sheriff to protect us and let us work and now we are appealing to you."

Davey said he would keep in touch with the situation.

Asylum Urged

SANDUSKY, Feb. 27.—A resolution urging erection of a proposed state insane asylum on the Oshtemo state farm property, which was willed to the state several years ago, had been adopted today by the Progressive Business Men's association.

Local State Patrol Active In Arrests

Salem state highway patrol officers have made 40 arrests so far this month, equaling the total of 40 arrests made during January. F. S. VanAllen, officer in charge, announced today. The local patrol station is one of the most active in district B.

Recent arrests included James Moore of Youngstown, charged with driving an automobile with license plates belonging to another car, fined $50 and costs by Justice S. S. Weaver at Columbiana, and Walter Schneider of Louisville, charged with failure to register, fined $25 and costs.

KIDNAP LADDER IN LIMELIGHT

Investigators Seek To Prove Lindbergh Crime Not Solved Fully

(By Associated Press)
TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 27.—The ladder allegedly used by Bruno Richard Hauptmann in the Lindbergh kidnap-slaying held the center of the stage today in efforts of private investigators to prove the crime has not been completely solved.

From an authoritative source, it was learned two investigators have asserted "proof" that part of the evidence linking the condemned Hauptmann to the ladder was "framed," and that a report of this will be made shortly to Governor Harold G. Hoffman.

The same source said the investigators claimed they were able to show, through violet ray tests, that four nail holes in joists in Hauptmann's Bronx attic—holes which the state contended matched four holes in "rail 16" of the ladder—were made about the time of Hauptmann's arrest.

The governor himself continued his attack on the testimony of Millard White, Soudland lumberjack, one of the chief identification witnesses against Hauptmann.

In New York last night the governor made public excerpts from White's examination, which he submitted as "proof that White was promised part of the reward ($25,000 offered by the state) if he identified Hauptmann, and that he was shown a number of photographs upon different occasions before he went to New York."

The governor said last night White told him he was promised $35 a day and told by a state trooper, named Wolf, that he would be entitled to one-third of the reward. From the time he identified Hauptmann until the trial opened, the governor said White told him, he was watched by the state police and a state trooper stayed at his home, even riding his wagon when he went for logs.

Welfare Council To Elect Officers

Election of officers will be held at a meeting of the Salem Friendly Welfare council Tuesday night in the Memorial building, leaders of the unit announced today. Probate Judge H. W. Hammond will be the speaker.

The initial meeting of the local council was held last week when objectives of the organization, affiliated with the Columbiana County Friendly Welfare council, were outlined.

GANG IS HUNTED IN OHIO HOLDUP

Oklahoman Is Identified In Garrettsville Train Robbery

The Associated Press reported today that postal inspectors have swung into a search for five gangsters, headed by one of the nation's most notorious criminals, as Grover Keady, 45, of Tulsa, Okla., awaited grand jury action in connection with the $46,000 Garrettsville train robbery.

Followed Salem Holdup
The train holdup occurred shortly after the spectacular holdup of two Salem bank representatives near the post office here in which $26,000 in payroll money was stolen.

Keady was held under $50,000 bond after pleading innocent yesterday to charges of participation in the robbery last Nov. 7. He was arrested Saturday night in Tulsa, where he had been employed by a bookmaker.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Frank Wiedeman in Cleveland said "We have evidence pointing to one of the most notorious criminals in the country as the ring leader in the robbery."

He did not reveal the man's name but other sources at the Cleveland federal building held to the belief Alvin Karpis was one of the five sought. Karpis, known as the nation's "No. 1 public enemy," several times has been traced to Ohio.

Keady, 45, known as "Burr Head" in Tulsa, has been identified by witnesses in the Garrettsville robbery, Wiedeman said. The prisoner was described by the United States marshals as "one tough hombre." He was taken to Cuyahoga county jail yesterday in leg irons and handcuffs after the arraignment before U. S. Commissioners B. D. Nichols.

Postal Inspector S. E. Hettrick traced the man to Tulsa. None of the $34,000 in cash and $12,000 in securities was recovered through his arrest.

Postal Inspectors Ernest Claggett of Akron and Jesse Cordray of Lima brought Keady to Cleveland.

Police records in Tulsa showed that Keady was arrested in 1933 for receiving stolen property and sentenced to six months in jail.

Famous Russian Physiologist Died

LENINGRAD, U. S. S. R., Feb. 27.—Ivan Petrovitch Pavlov, the physiologist who became internationally famous for his "purely materialistic" theory of conditioned reflexes and for his research into the mental processes of animals, died today of influenza. He was 86 years old.

The son of a village priest, he argued that human life is based on reflexes or reactions of the nervous system to outside influences. This, the soviet encyclopedia says, applies to "the highest nervous activity—formerly called the soul."

Conduct of both men and animals Pavlov maintained, is directly dependent upon this relationship between organism and its environment.

American Priest Is Reported Captured

MUKDEN, Manchoukuo, Feb. 27.—Peasants reported to military officers today that they had seen the Rev. Father Clarence Joseph Burns of Ossining, N. Y., alive in the hands of bandits Feb. 23.

They said at that time the American priest was at Naotoukuo, 43 miles southeast of Tundhuu.

The bandits, favored by snow-clad, wooded hills, evaded a detachment of Japanese soldiers which sought to encircle them.

The Japanese troops now have enlisted peasants as intermediaries in an effort to obtain the priest's release.

K. Zimmerman in Lisbon. He was sentenced to from one to 15 years in the penitentiary on June 4. Carter, serving for from one to 20 years in Highland county, was to have been paroled in June after serving for about three years.

ARMY OFFICERS YIELD AS NEW RULE IS FORMED

Surviving Ministers Attempt To Set Up New Jap Government

FOUR LEADERS DIE, FIFTH NEAR DEATH

Day-long Conferences Under Way at Imperial Palace

BY DEVON FRANCIS, Associated Press Staff Writer
Rebellious young army officers who killed at least four Japanese "liberal" statesmen in an attempted coup d'etat gave ground in Tokyo today while surviving ministers strove to form a new government.

Capitulation of the insurgent soldiers was communicated by an official source to the Domei News agency late Thursday night, Tokyo time.

The recalcitrants, who had held police headquarters and barracks against a tightening ring of loyal troops for 24 hours, were reported to have begun evacuation of the buildings they occupied.

But the original object of the uprising—removal of those government figures they considered inimical to Japan's best interests and the establishment of an ultra-patriotic nationalist government—appeared nearing achievement.

Expect Firm Army Rule
An anxious Europe anticipated firm army rule in Japan on the question: will war eventuate from the conflict between Japanese militarists and the more conservative liberals.

The answer to the question lay in day-long conferences at the imperial palace of Emperor Hirohito.

While Tokyo grew quiet under the patrolling of loyal troops, backed by martial law, government officials and supreme war councilors tried to select a new premier to succeed the slain Keisuke Okada.

Fumio Goto, acting premier, remained in charge of the government during the negotiations.

A communique received at the Japanese embassy in London said normal conditions virtually had been restored to the Japanese capital but advised direct from Tokyo described an almost complete paralysis of activity in the city.

Additional soldiers thronged Tokyo. Warships of the Imperial navy steamed into positions to help enforce public order.

Ultra-Nationalist Move Seen
At the elbow of the emperor, those striving to form a new government apparently leaned toward an ultra-nationalist regime. Admiral Kanji Kato, a leader of the

Tests Reveal That Most of Seed Corn In Ohio Is Unfit

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Feb. 27.—Nature had taken corn production control into her own hands, an agricultural expert said today, and presented Ohio farmers with the prospect of the "worst seed corn situation in Ohio since that of 1917."

R. D. Lewis, professor of agronomy at Ohio State university, said that germination tests conducted in various counties showed that a high percentage of test corn submitted was absolutely unfit for seed.

He cited a Madison county test which showed 493 ears out of 590 were unfit; a test in Clark county eliminated 52 of 68 ears; Muskingum county proved better than average with four lots of 13 germinating perfectly, two germinating 70 per cent, three lots germinating from 50 to 65 per cent, and four from 18 to 40 per cent. Of 37 lots tested in Meigs county only six germinated better than 90 per cent.

He attributed the poor quality of this year's corn to two major factors: The high moisture content of the kernel and the abnormally cold weather of the winter, and estimated that between 500,000 and 600,000 bushels of seed corn would be needed to plant Ohio's 3,900,000 acres of corn land.

J. C. Hedge, Mahoning county agent, has been notified that the extremely cold weather has caused severe damage to seed corn. It is suggested that farmers make germination tests of their seed corn supplies at once and forward the results of these tests to the county agent in order to determine the seriousness of the local seed situation.

Dr. Lewis is of the opinion that the seed corn situation may be as bad in this area as it was in 1917. At that time corn had to be shipped in from other sections of the country in order to supply enough seed for planting in this section.

Reads of Operation, Tries One Herself

MANCHESTER, Feb. 27.—Mrs. Bertha Pinkston had the newspapers to thank today for the fact that an inch-long piece of tooth was no longer in the roof of her mouth.

She read recently how surgeons after 46 years removed a shirt-stud from the lung of Harry Richards of Xenia.

Twenty years ago, she recalled, a Bowling Green, Ky., dentist had broken off a section of a tooth. The remainder since then had moved two inches from her jawbone to the roof of her mouth.

"It hadn't hurt me for 11 years," she said, "but thinking about it seemed to start irritation. I reached in and pulled it out."

"I suppose," she added, "it still would have been there, if I hadn't read about that Xenia case."

AT THE FRONT

Reports from the National Educational association meeting in St. Louis show plainly that school teachers are acutely apprehensive over threats to their liberty. They see clearly that circumstances have placed them in the front line of the battle to defend their intellectual freedom.

They are not fighting one enemy, but several. Communists would like to line up the teachers on their side, and America's incipient fascists are just as eager to have the teachers on their side. It isn't a fight to stave off communism, as William Randolph Hearst says it is, but a fight to stave off all enemies of intellectual freedom, including the aforementioned Mr. Hearst.

In other words, the struggle for the right to shape the mind of children, after a good many centuries of fury and occasional bloodshed, still is going on as usual. And the children, as always, are the real victims. Whatever protection they have, they owe to their embattled instructors.

IT CAN HAPPEN

Predicting the outcome of votes on bond issues and extra tax levies has been a relatively safe avocation the last few years. Even the greenest guesser could see they didn't have a chance, and tabulation of ballots usually proved they didn't.

But in Cleveland last Tuesday a fat majority of voters approved a proposal to increase the tax levy. At the same time in Cuyahoga county electors approved a relief bond issue to be retired from a tax on public utilities. It still can happen, even if a bond issue retired from public utilities taxes isn't much of a direct sacrifice.

All over Ohio and in communities in other states politicians twirled their mustaches contemptuously when they heard the good news from Cleveland. When voters can be talked into accepting more taxes even indirect taxes, it's a sign the lean days are running near to the end of their cycle. In another five years the good old days of free spending may be back again in all their hallowed glory.

THEY LIVE BY THE SWORD

The United States knows enough about professional militarists to understand what experts believe is the motive for Japan's latest political assassinations. Men who live by the sword develop a cannishness and a conviction of importance which frequently make them a potent political factor. In a nation where authority must be backed up directly with guns to make it effective, militarists inevitably become politicians, because they hold the balance of power.

The military faction would like to control Japan, observers say. It intends to fight ruthlessly for the prestige it desires. Invasion of Manchuria was a military stroke; the rest of the government had no choice of decisions. War with Russia would be a military affair. With generals and admirals speaking for nations what else could there be but war? Fighting is their business. It also is their pleasure.

Last week's parliamentary elections frightened the militarists. The popular vote was interpreted as a rebuke to their policies. The issue was defined with painful clearness; militarists had been challenged to defend their conception of governmental authority. With characteristic directness, militaristic sympathizers did what it was natural for them to do—they turned to violence.

Due to censorship, it will be several days at least until much is known of the assassinations. It would be a surprise, however, to learn as information trickles through the barriers erected against it that Japan's professional blood-letters are not at the bottom of the mischief.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—Metropolitan bathrooms continue to grow in elegance. In many mansions the bath symbolizes luxury more than the drawing room. A $25,000 expenditure is not a novelty. Any number are as large as the averaged sized hotel room. One in E. 66th st. cost $50,000.

Equipment makes them as livable as a bedroom. Just now the fad is for the sunken tub, often hewn out of solid blocks of marble or onyx. The showers, glass enclosed, feature a half dozen types of spray including electric and the violet ray. And there are automatic flesh brushes.

With the times frowning on outward display, people of wealth may let themselves go in the privacy the bath endows. One I saw with walls and ceiling entirely mirrored had a shellpink floor that had all the lustre of expensive jade with sunset light aglow underneath.

Within arm reach of the bath was a rubberized English phone. Also a radio dial, an inset alarm clock that may be set for a brief nap and a head rest of pneumatic design. The proud possessor was once a farm boy who had had his jousts with the Saturday night tin tub. Nirvana!

If there's the slightest twinge of jealousy over Jack Benny riding the radio's top wave no one is conscious of it. His most ardent boosters are fellow performers. They are grateful he has brought to their calling the often heeded touch of decency in thought, speech and action. Nor has he forgotten his Lindy days when the Palace was his goal. Benny neither smokes, drinks nor voices the risqué yarn, yet he fits into any gathering. He and his wife lapse into baby talk occasionally, wherever they are, with no mounting blush. One is rarely seen without the other. No stage couple is more widely beloved.

The proprietress of a Fifth Avenue beauty salon writes me of the department she has opened for men—and hints, what silly rumors get around! that I might be in the market for a few wrinkle smoothings and such. Confidentially, too, she lists several patrons, including two broken-down stage and movie Don Juans and a few actors I know who have been dyeing their hair for several years and having perpetual 39th birthdays. Just now she has a secret entrance but thinks that it won't be long until men walk into a beauty parlor with the same jauntiness with which they enter the barber shop. She says the defects that cause the most self-agonizing self-consciousness are the sunken effects almost inevitable with dental plates.

Fannie Ward, not a whit changed since she became known 15 years ago as "the eternal flapper," has been conspicuous in the public gathering places this winter with her titled daughter from London. Miss Ward quit referring to her years after she passed 60. She dances with the lightness of a feather and her manner has the bright-eyed alertness and twinkle of the morning robin. She has confessed this gaiety is something exterior and acquired. There are times when she is overwhelmed with longings for the rocker, knitting ball and shawl. But this mental attitude is what has kept her flapperish. So she carries on.

In France there is an idolatry for those who reach ripe years looking young. A notable example is Mistinguette in her 60's displaying her figure nightly in tights at revues. Going to see Mistinguette at least once a year is a part of the Frenchman's credo. Sometimes over here we are inclined to regard ladies who retain juvenility as freaks. Yet it is an accomplishment everybody seeks.

Thingumbobs: Lillian Lorraine, now almost white haired, retains much of the beauty that made her famous. James Joyce was a lone sitter in front of the Cafe Du Dome a recent noontime. Jim Tully likes to pay hotel bills writing advertising booklets when possible. Michael Arlen's next novel will deal with the Americans stranded in Paris after the boom time years. Ben Finney has backers for a swank night club in Shanghai.

He weaved out of "No. 21," stood swaying as a daintily furred and beautifully aloof creature minced by. Eyeing her out of sight, he turned and tottered back toward the bar. "At's what's makin' a drunkard of me," he mumbled. "Women won't let me alone!"

The wage scale which journeymen plumbers of this city seek to replace the three-year agreement which expires April 1, was presented Wednesday to the master plumbers. For the last three years the plumbers have been working an eight-hour day at $4 a day. They will ask for Saturday afternoons off.

A compromise is to be the solution of the deadlock between local bartenders and organized saloonists when the former recently demanded and the latter refused to grant, an increase in the wage minimum from $12 to $18 per week.

Alliance-Student government may be tried at Mount Union college as a result of the suspension of several students.

THE STARS SAY

For Friday, February 28

A fairly active day is the augury based on some minor aspects of the planets. These, however, point to change of travel of benefit, with new adventures and contacts. Also, there is a sign that substantial possessions and solid investments will prosper, with the prospect of profitable contracts or deals in connection with lands, tenancies or in labor or industries.

Those whose birthday it is are encouraged to give attention to their property interests, investments in real estate or farms and labor interests. Profitable contracts or deals may be made in this connection. Some change or travel is forecast, promising new contacts and propositions of benefit.

A child born on this day may have diversified talents, and should be solid, practical, steadfast and responsible, as well as diligent and mentally profound.

Notable nativity: Geraldine Farrar, prima donna.

Day's News

By Arthur Brisbane

ROME HINTS that Mussolini and Hitler have arranged a protective treaty with Austria, Poland and Hungary. Five countries under dictators, united against England and France, still experimenting with the old "democracy," would be interesting.

One dictator, Stalin, supposed to have an understanding with France might off-set the other combination.

Also, Hitler will remember that in 1914, Germany thought she had Italy in a "triple alliance," Italy-Austria-Germany, but Italy did not stay. That increases Mussolini's bitterness with England trying to cause Italy's defeat by barbarous Ethiopia.

MR. EDEN, young foreign secretary, tells England modern conditions are "dreadfully" like conditions before 1914. England must arm herself to the teeth and have, for final objective, "a world-wide system of collective security which embraces all nations in an authority which is unchallenged and unchallengeable."

That might be done by two or three countries closely united, although the airplane makes everything in war uncertain. It might destroy a capital city, and an alliance, in one morning, as a pistol destroys the strongest man.

KING GEORGE'S funeral cost $125,000, reasonable. Corpses of rulers are not taken as seriously as once they were. Into the savage ruler's grave were thrown slaughtered horses and slaves, male and female, to serve them on the other side. Around Atilla's tomb, horses and warriors, impaled alive, the men eager for the honor, looking out, North, South, East, West.

King Mausolus had such a magnificent tomb that everybody uses the word "mausoleum," although many know little about Mausolus. What is left of his tomb is in the British Museum with many important items.

MRS. HENRY McCONNELL, 33 East Evergreen avenue, Westtown, O., says please mention the "World Day of Prayer," which is to reach all around the world on February 28.

See that useful magazine "Women and Missions," published by the Woman's Board of Missions, of the Presbyterian church, for details.

It tells you "on this February 28, first Friday in Lent, the hour of prayer begins with the rising sun over the isles of the Pacific where the day begins," and goes on continuously until the close of the day again at Gambell, on St. Lawrence Island, in the Bering Sea—more than forty hours of ceaseless prayer."

ON FRIDAY next, women will pray especially for women at work in the missionary field. Men might well join, for it says in James 5:16: "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much."

Forty hours of prayer; how far do those fervent words travel; from how many billions of planets, in infinite space, do such prayers rise, night and day?

Dissatisfaction with the distribution of Federal patronage is given as the reason for the announcement that former Governor William A. Comstock of Michigan no longer sees eye to eye with the Democratic party in the state where he has been boss for 30 years. He says he will be an Independent.

non. Here someone has an interesting idea to overcome the "kick" of big cannon dangerous to a plane.

The new flying cannon, mounted on the plane's wings, would shoot in two directions at the same instant, one "kick" off-setting and neutralizing the other.

Military experts hope that a bomb from such a cannon "scoring a direct hit on a skyscraper would crash through ten or twelve floors before the delayed explosion broke the steel girders, bringing the building down." Interesting to workers in skyscrapers.

CATARRH

THIS IS the time of year when the number of sufferers from nasal catarrh begins to increase. No doubt this is due to atmospheric changes with rise and fall of temperature.

With less fresh air and sunlight during the winter, the resistance to the germs of the common cold and sore throat, may be lowered. Catarrh of the nose may be divided into two types—the acute and chronic forms. Chronic catarrh is a common ailment and, as its name indicates, it is the result of repeated and persistent attacks of acute nasal catarrh which were neglected or given faulty treatment.

Acute catarrh is caused by the germs or other agents responsible for colds and sore throats. The victim complains of a stuffiness in the nose and dryness. This is followed by the familiar symptom, a "running nose."

Sometimes hoarseness is present. In severe cases when the inflammation extends to the larynx, complete loss of voice for a few days may be experienced. An attack of acute catarrh may last from a few hours to several days or even a week.

Not All Simple. If the condition continues for more than a few days, the discharge from the nose becomes thick, purulent and very sticky. It usually decreases in amount and ultimately disappears.

Unfortunately, not all cases are as simple as this. Once the infection has occurred it may lead to complications. It may spread to the nasal sinuses or result in chronic catarrh of the membranes of the nose, with persistent nasal discharge.

The pharynx back of the mouth becomes dry and glazed. The throat may be sensitive and at times the gland in the neck becomes enlarged. As a rule there is a persistent dropping of mucus into the throat. This is a very annoying symptom and may lead to distressing digestive disturbances.

Neglect of this form of catarrh is dangerous because of its possible complications. Arthritis, rheumatism, neuritis and certain nervous disorders and even heart trouble can be traced to persistent infections of the nose and nasal sinuses.

Answers to Health Queries

A. B. Q.—I am a young man of 21 and in good health with one exception. I am troubled with shaking hands and in some instances it effects my head, particularly when out in a crowd. What would cause this nervous condition? It is not due to an inferiority complex, because I love to go out among my friends but feel embarrassed because of this annoyance.

A.—Try to overcome the underlying nervousness first of all. See your doctor for examination and advice. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send addressed stamped envelopes with their questions. Address all letters to Dr. Copeland in care of this newspaper at its main office in this city.

Maybe we'll have an early Spring this year. Even your very next oil change may carry you into warmer weather. Who knows?

But, will the "light" oil that you buy today for easy starting be heavy enough to fight wear when warm Spring days invite you to travel?

If it's SOHIO Motor Oil, yes!

This new SOHIO Motor Oil is neither light nor heavy—it's both! We've given it "lightness" for starting and "body" for endurance—both of these vital qualities in this one oil.

As for X-70 gasoline, it is always ready to start and to go—always in tune with the weather. That's taken care of right at the refinery where seasonal changes are promptly met by changes in the product that goes to X-70 pumps. Nor is that all. X-70 is triple-distilled to squeeze extra miles into every gallon. And X-70 users avoid carbon trouble because X-70 has contained anti-carbon solvent since 1932.

1935 LIVESTOCK PRICES HIGHEST
Top Three-Year Level, Agricultural Department Announces
(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—An agriculture department report said today 1935 livestock prices were the highest in three years.
Prices last year, the department said, were 39 per cent above those of 1934, 61 per cent higher than 1933, and 60 per cent above the 1932 level.
All livestock commodities except wool, the department reported, sold higher in 1935 than in the preceding year. Meat animals were up 39 per cent and dairy products up 41 per cent. Wool prices were down 1 per cent.
Outstanding gains were in the prices of hogs, the average farm price being $8.36 per 100 pounds, a weight, compared with $4.14 in 1934. The department attributed the advance chiefly to "abnormally low market supplies of hogs."

County Extension Council Convenes

Members of the Mahoning County Home Extension council met recently at the home of Mrs. F. C. Allen at Ellsworth. Program plans for the coming year were discussed. It was decided to hold the annual achievement day meeting for women of the county in October.

Plans for the northeast district meeting of Home Extension councils were announced. The meeting is to be held at Mill Creek park in June.

Miss Minnie Price, state home demonstration leader gave a talk on "A Challenge to Ohio Homemakers."

Officers were elected for the coming year. They are: President, Mrs. Virginia W. Allen of Ellsworth; vice president, Mrs. Maggie Taylor of North Benton and secretary, Mrs. G. L. Stackhouse, North Lima.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. R. E. Frederick in Boardman.

DECLINES TO RUN IN OHIO

Sen. Vandenberg of Michigan, However, Doesn't Close Door Tightly

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Sen. Vandenberg of Michigan, in a letter made public today, formally declined to run in the Ohio presidential primary but did not close the door to his future consideration for the Republican nomination.

Writing to the Republican state committee of Ohio, in reply to an inquiry as to whether he would run, Vandenberg asserted his "sole interest" in the Republican convention was that it should make "the wisest possible decisions respecting both party leadership and party policies."

Not Seeking Delegates
He was not "seeking instructed delegates" to the convention, he said, but he did not flatly assert as he has many times in the past that he was "not a candidate."

Another development today in the Republican presidential situation was the publication of a statement by former Senator Walter Edge, of New Jersey, which was interpreted in some quarters as a virtual challenge to Sen. Borah, of Idaho, to enter that state.

Borah was preparing a reply to his former senate colleague. Recently he indicated he would not enter the New Jersey primary. But Edge's declaration that sentiment there was strongly favorable to Gov. Landon of Kansas, might change his mind, informed sources believed.

Vandenberg's letter was addressed to Ed D. Schorr, chairman of the Ohio committee, who had written him to inquire whether the Michigan senator would consent to the use of his name in the primary. Similar inquiries were made of Landon and Colonel Frank Knox, of Chicago, but neither has replied, so far as is known.

GOVERNOR MAY HALT ASSEMBLY

House, Senate Irreconcilable, Davey May Take Hand

COLUMBUS, Feb. 27.—The Ohio general assembly went home today, unreconciled on an adjournment date, and the possibility arose Gov. Martin L. Davey might have to end the special session he called last September.

Senate Recesses

The house voted to adjourn sine die Friday. The senate, in a mid-night session, refused to concur and recessed until March 26.

If the two houses are unable to break the adjournment date deadlock, Governor Davey is empowered to adjourn the assembly sine die a message to the legislature.

Another last minute difference was senate refusal to concur in house amendments to the McCluskey liquor agency bill. The senate asked for a conference with house leaders to reach an agreement.

Last minute accomplishments included concurrence by both houses in a conference report on the bill to extend the cigarette tax law from Oct. 31 to March 31, 1937.

Send Judges Bill

The senate also disposed of and sent to the governor one bill to make the common pleas judges separate-term act apply to the May primary, another to reappropriate unexpended balances totaling $248,000 to the state welfare department building fund.

Pending legislation includes a milk control bill described by Governor Davey as "the most important business before them," several social security conformity measures, including one for unemployment insurance, and the county term extender.

Newly handed to the senate was the house-approved $535,374 deficiency appropriation measure.

Veteran Succumbs

SANDUSKY, Feb. 27.—John Abbott, 91, died at the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors home yesterday. He entered in 1903 from Belleaire. His death reduced the Civil war veterans to six in the home.

I Made Up My Mind To Get Thin...and Did!

It was so simple! I ate what I liked, took no strenuous exercises, did not weaken my body with drastic purgatives—yet day by day I felt myself getting lighter, the fat seemed to slip away. Now I have a lovely, graceful figure—and I never felt better in my life!

That, in brief, is what thousands of women who have reduced the Marmola way might well tell you. Four times a day they take a little tablet containing in exactly the right quantity a world-famous corrective for abnormal obesity—A corrective prescribed by physicians everywhere and acknowledged to be the most effective known.

Since 1907, more than 20 million packages of Marmola have been purchased. Could any better recommendation be had?

Today—buy a package of Marmola, and start at once. Soon you will experience Marmola's benefits. When you have gone far enough, stop taking Marmola. And you will bless the day you first discovered this marvelous reducing agent.

Marmola is on sale by dealers everywhere—from coast to coast.

Cleveland Council Dispute Is Settled

CLEVELAND, Feb. 27.—The fourth district court of appeals unanimously ruled today Joseph A. Arti, Democratic floor leader, was legally elected president of the city council.

Alexander L. De Maioribus, Republican, and William C. Reed, Independent, were other claimants to the office. The controversy resulted from a tumultuous session last month during which City Clerk Fred Thomas announced the election of Dr. Maioribus.

Presiding Appellate Judge Charles W. Montgomery of Newark, and Judges Clyde C. Shehick of Ashland and C. Lemert of Ashland constituted the court.

CITY PLUNGED INTO DARKNESS

El Paso, Tex., Surrounding Area, Affected By Electric Strike

(By Associated Press)
EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 27. — The city of El Paso and the Mesilla valley, embracing Texas and New Mexico territory with a population of 150,000 persons, was plunged into darkness early today by a sudden strike of union workers of the El Paso Electric Co.

Lights and power were shut off at 3:15 a. m. without warning, leaving hospitals, homes, hotels, factories and streets in darkness. Radio stations, including the police broadcasting system, went off the air and the street railway system was tied up. An immediate appeal to the governors of New Mexico and Texas was sent out and a request for mediation was filed with the department of labor in Washington.

M. C. Smith, president of the company, said efforts to renew service were balked by the fact that steam engine boilers have been drained and small parts of the generating machinery had been removed or destroyed.

Peaceful picketing to prevent non-union workers from opening the plants was started immediately.

N. P. Clay, president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, said the walkout was the result of failure of the company to keep faith with the union on an agreement reached a year ago which ended the last power strike here.

Today's Pattern

Pattern 2679

"I'm so much happier now!" exclaimed the woman who has found slenderness with this lovely pattern. Others like her will also find flattery in this design by Anne Adams, who has studied the needs of mature figures. See how gracious are the smooth yoke and sleeves cut all in one! Made this way, they save time, as do the slender skirt panel and pointed waist section—the latter molds the waistline in graceful folds. And don't overlook the possibilities of a neckline that may be worn in cowl fashion, or tied with a flattering ribbon bow. Printed silk or crepe, or a synthetic sheer are fabric suggestions.

Pattern 2679 is available in sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 takes 3 1/2 yards 39 inch fabric and 1/4 yard contrasting illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send Fifteen Cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. State Size.

Send for our Spring Pattern Book Now! See how easily you can have a flattering, individual wardrobe that'll keep you smart all season! Trim house dresses, gay sports clothes, lovely afternoon and party frocks. Clever slenderizing styles. YOU'RE A LUCKY BRIDE, DEAR. THINGS ARE DIFFERENT TODAY. WHEN I WAS A GIRL—

I had to scrub clothes for hours—and stand over a hot, steamy boiler trying to get the wash snowy. But today the modern wife simply soaks her wash whiter and brighter in creamy Rinso suds. That saves wear and tear on clothes—makes them last 2 or 3 times longer. As long as Rinso is made, you'll never have to worry about washboard backache. Use Rinso for dishes and all cleaning. It's wonderful in washers, too. Rinso gives thick, lasting suds—even in hardest water. It's so easy on hands.

surpassing the flood stage of 25 feet.

Lowland Dwellers Forced To Flee

Near Defiance, trucks were mobilized and moved lowland dwellers along the Maumee and Auglaize rivers to higher ground after the river neared flood stage. After causing camp dwellers to flee, the Great Miami river, along the western edge of Hamilton county (Cincinnati), receded slowly. The river had risen five feet in 24 hours, to last midnight.

Crop Areas Flooded

In Ottawa county, the Portage river ice was holding, though immediate danger of flood was considered removed. Fields in the Lake Erie peach and grape areas were flooded, and at Oak Harbor authorities watching with apprehension lest ice, two feet thick, imperil three bridges, one used by the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad.

Contract yards of the Bessemer & Lake Erie were flooded as water piled up behind a jam in Conneaut creek.

Arza Tuckerman, 73-year-old Sandusky river island farmer of near Fremont, narrowly escaped drowning when a huge ice-cake tore a hole in the bottom of his rowboat. Tuckerman bailed the boat with his hat with one hand, rowing with the other to reach shore safely amid the cheers of a small group of shivering spectators. Near Conneaut, volunteers waded 200 yards in knee-deep water to rescue Mrs. Harry Hawley from her home. The Blanchard river at Findlay was rising steadily at two inches an hour and was overflowing at many points.

Bette Davis and Leslie Howard, stars of "The Petrified Forest" showing at the State Friday and Saturday.

Leslie Howard's latest stage triumph, "The Petrified Forest," from the pen of the ace playwright, Robert E. Sherwood, has been adapted for the screen by Warner Bros., and will be presented at the State theater Friday and Saturday. With Howard in the screen production is Bette Davis, who won recognition for her performance opposite Howard in "Of Human Bondage" last year. Genevieve Tobin and Humphrey Bogart are featured players in this film, directed by Archie Mayo.

Failure In Life
Howard portrays an author who is a failure in life and completely disillusioned with the world. He suddenly awakes to the fact that he is a complete failure, a parasite on his wife, who is in love with another man. He comes to the realization that he never has really lived and sets out to find the reason for living.

In a wayside eating place in the Arizona desert he is thrown together with other misfits: a girl longing for love and life; the girl's father who is unable to adjust himself since the war; her grandfather, a mean selfish creature who hoards his money that would satisfy the longings of his granddaughter; a bored society woman and her smug husband; and a college youth who is unable to find his place in life. All these characters are held in the wayside inn by bandits and murderers who are fleeing from the law.

Bette Davis plays the unhappy girl who longs for a fling at life, for beautiful clothes, dancing and the frivolities other girls enjoy. Genevieve Tobin plays the society woman who has all the things the girl longs for and is bored with life and believes it is all futile.

Discovers His Abilities
Howard finally discovers under these extraordinary circumstances that he can be of some use in life. By making a great sacrifice he believes he can make the girl with whom he has fallen in love, happy. With his sacrifice he expects to give her the key to the life she wants.

It is a moving stage play set almost entirely in the large room of the inn. Howard's performance is said to be very good and Miss Davis, it seems, is inspired to do her best acting when playing opposite Howard.

Tonight the State theater presents, for the last time, "Barbary Coast," starring Miriam Hopkins. Others in the cast are Joel McCrea and Edward G. Robinson. The Grand offers a new type of western Friday and Saturday. Gene Autry, the singing cowboy, is featured in "Tumbling Tumbleweeds."

BORAH FORCES LINK GANNETT

Publisher Named As Senator's Running Mate
In Ohio Race

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Feb. 27. — Publisher Frank E. Gannett ranked today as "second-choice" of the Sen. William E. Borah-for-president forces in Ohio.

Glenn Hancock, representing the Idaho senator's backers, said a full slate of delegate candidates would be named today, pledged to Borah's candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination and naming Gannett to meet an Ohio constitutional requirement.

Hasn't Filed Formally
Borah has not filed formally in Ohio. He has until March 13 to file petitions and a slate of delegates who have received his and Gannett's written consent to represent them at the party's national convention.

The Republican state central committee met today to decide whether to oppose Borah by adhering to its announced "favorite son"—or uncommitted—delegation plan; supporting an outside candidate, or leave the field open for all candidates.

Reliable sources said the central committee would hold its original determination to send delegates to the Cleveland convention pledged only to a "favorite son." Robert H. Taft of Cincinnati, son of the late William Howard Taft, was discussed as a possible "favorite son."

Fulfills Requirements
Gannett's selection fulfilled the Ohio constitutional requirement that delegate candidates must name both a first and second choice for president and obtain the written consent of the men chosen. It did not necessarily mean that Gannett would be a candidate for the vice-presidential nomination.

Both friends and opponents of Borah's backers expressed surprise at the choice. William Ziegler, head of the New York City Borah-for-president organization, said he was "quite surprised."

Other Borah sources here indicated they had not expected the move, while a Republican state central committee spokesman, Frank Pauly, indicated committee members had looked for naming someone else. He promised a statement today. Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester, leader of Col. Frank Knox-for-president forces in Ohio, likewise expressed surprise and said he might have an announcement regarding Colonel Knox's possible candidacy after the committee meeting today.

Armbruster Foes Are Strengthened By Court Decision

COLUMBUS, Feb. 27.—Henry E. Worley, a leader of opponents of the Lawrence Armbruster road bond refund act, declared today they would press for legislative passage of a bill to repeal it despite the Ohio supreme court decision holding the law unconstitutional.

Worley, secretary of the Springfield chamber of commerce and of the Lawrence-Armbruster statewide protest committee, said that in view of the repealer's provisions to set up a refunding program to give back to counties the ten percent of automobile license fees collected under the act, "we will continue our efforts to secure its passage."

He expressed himself as "particularly gratified that the supreme court agreed yesterday with our premise that the law was unconstitutional."

The court in an unanimous decision followed the Florida supreme court's decision in a similar case. It said "even though the levy of a county excise tax is laid uniformly by the legislature, if the proceeds of the tax are arbitrarily apportioned without reference to the sums collected in the taxing units in and for the benefit of which the taxes are levied and collected (in this case the several counties), the result is as much a denial of uniformity and equal protection as though the levy itself was similarly lacking in uniformity."

The law, enacted last spring, required setting aside ten percent of the automobile license fees to retire outstanding county, city, and township special road assessment bonds issued prior to Jan. 1, 1935.

ardently patriotic faction of the navy, and retired former chief of the navy general staff, joined the deliberations in the afternoon with the supreme war council.

Speculation over the identity of the next premier most frequently mentioned Baron Kiichiro Hiranuma, vice president of the privy council and noted head of Fascist organizations, and General Sadao Araki, former war minister.

From the Associated Press correspondent in Tokyo came this significant dispatch:

"A belief grew in political circles that the emperor's advisers would urge the right wing elements to be given a chance to form a cabinet, to see whether they would be able to conduct the government."

Others mentioned for the premiership were Prince Naruhiko Higashi-Kuni, a member of the supreme war council, and Prince Fumimaro Konoye.

Finance Minister Dead

Formal announcement was made of the death of Finance Minister Korekiyo Takahashi. Previously Viscount Makotos Aito, lord keeper of the privy seal, Premier Keisuke Okada and Gen Jotaro Watanabe, inspector general of military education, had been announced as having been slain.

Reported wounded were Kantaro Suzuki, grand chamberlain, and Count Nobuaki Makino, former lord keeper of the privy seal. The injuries to Suzuki were acknowledged to be so grave that his death was merely a question of time.

The first four victims were three retired admirals and one general on the army's active list, all comparative liberals and opponents of the Fascist militarists, seeking to establish a military dictatorship.

The venerable Prince Saionji, another object of the assassins' campaign, was reported to have fled from his villa at a coastal city and gone into hiding.

LUCKIES—A LIGHT SMOKE

OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO—"IT'S TOASTED"

Luckies are less acid

Over a period of years, certain basic advances have been made in the selection and treatment of cigarette tobaccos for Lucky Strike Cigarettes. They include preliminary analyses of the tobaccos selected; use of center leaves; the higher heat treatment of tobacco ("toasting"); consideration of acid-alkaline balance, with consequent definite improvement in flavor; and controlled uniformity in the finished product.

All these combine to produce a superior cigarette—a modern cigarette, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos—A Light Smoke.

Recent chemical tests show* that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.

Salem-Struthers Will Play In Final Big Six League Contest

Alliance, Massillon Only Other Teams In League To Have Tilts

Quakers Will Make Last Stand On Home Hardwoods Against Struthers Team That Has Won Eight And Lost Ten Games

The last chapter of the Northeastern Ohio Big Six league's 1935-36 basketball history will be written at Salem High school gymnasium tomorrow night when the Salem High Quakers meet Coach Art Francis' Struthers High cagers.

The climax of the current Big Six season was reached over a month ago when Massillon Washington High won over Salem to annex the championship of the league. The Quakers were defending champions of the league during the present campaign.

Besides the final league contest, three non-league games, involving Big Six teams, will be played over the week-end. Alliance participates in two of these games, in meeting Akron St. Vincent tomorrow and Massillon Saturday, while the league champion Massillon five faces Akron West in the other contest.

Make Last Stand
The Quakers, who clinched third place in the league by defeating Niles and Alliance last week, will make their last stand on home hardwoods tomorrow against a Struthers team that has won eight and lost 10 of its games to date.

In their last tilt against Struthers, the Quakers have won three times. Struthers was able to gain the victory two years ago. Concluding one of its most disastrous seasons, Alliance participated in an even break this week. Akron St. Vincent, from all appearances, packs too many guns for the Quakers but they should hang up their fourth victory of the campaign at the expense of Lisbon.

Massillon St. Vincent downed Youngstown Ursuline last week while Lisbon lost out to both Toledo and Sebring. Following their second loss to Salem High's Quakers, the Quakers came back to upset Struthers and break an 11-game losing streak.

Alliance has won three and lost 11 games so far this season. The outstanding feature of the league's small schedule this week, is the annual tussle between Massillon and Akron West. During the past 11 basketball seasons in which these traditional rivals have met, Massillon has won but four times. In the 1931-32 campaign when Massillon won the state championship, Akron held the Quakers to a 21-21 tie. The game was called with the score deadlocked after the teams had battled through three overtime periods.

Massillon, for the first time in three years, has a good chance to drop West. The Quakers defeated Akron East last week while West was trounced by New Philadelphia. Outside of the Salem-Struthers game tomorrow, the league standings which follow are final:

Standings	W.	L.	Pts.	Opp.	Pct.

Training Camp Slants

By the Associated Press

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Although the Dodgers don't open their training camp officially until tomorrow, a number of them including Manager Casey Stengel, already are on hand.

Rookie Goes To Out Field
LAKELAND, Fla.—Rudy York, rookie candidate for Hank Greenberg's first base job with the Tigers, may be shifted to the outfield to take advantage of his hitting. In the Texas league last year York hit 32 homers, drove in 117 runs and earned the designation as the league's most valuable player.

Unknown Is Watched
ORLANDO, Fla.—Owner Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators has been showing some interest in Floyd Perryman, obscure Paducah, Ky., sandlotter catcher, but without committing himself. The Senators' second and third base places remain unfilled.

Has Bright Future
SARASOTA, Fla.—Herb Pennock, Red Sox pitching coach, paints a bright picture of the pitcher possibilities of Stewart (Doc) Bowers, who dropped a pre-medical course at Gettysburg college to join the team last July. Pennock says Bowers should develop into a regular pitcher this season.

Slot Machine Problem
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Bill McKetchnie, Boston Bees manager, is worrying audibly over whether the slot machines will vie with the town cafes for the daily food allotment of cash for the players, particularly some of the rookies. There's no restaurant run in conjunction with the team's hotel.

Pepper Martin Brings Pep
BRADENTON, Fla.—"Pepper" Martin bounced into town last night to bring pep to the St. Louis Cardinals' camp. He wore, in addition to customary garments, a 10-gallon cowboy hat and a broad smile. His arrival left only the holdout Deans and Leo Durocher, who is coaching the Navy team at Annapolis for a few days, off the squad.

A line drive off Virgil Davis' bat bumped Bill Hallahan on the head yesterday and he drew a day in bed to recover.

Cincy Lad Continues His Winning Streak

CINCINNATI, Feb. 27.—Johnny (Kayo) Stevens, 132, young Cincinnati southpaw, continued his winning streak at the expense of Tiger Walker, 134, local Negro, in the 10-round windup of a boxing program last night.

Stevens was outboxed in the first half of the bout as he took several long rights to the chin. He tried to pile up points with a right jab to the face and won the sixth by a shade.

In the last four rounds he shook Walker with lefts to the face and body to gain enough points for the decision.

Will McDowell of Louisville won an unpopular 10-round decision over Simon Nebolsky of Cincinnati. They finished on about even terms. McDowell weighed 155, and Nebolsky, 154.

COLUMBIANS ON DOWN GRADE IN CLASS A LEAGUE

Suffer Second Defeat of Week by Winona Five Last Night

Coach Ray Teasbeck's Columbian cagers, first round champions of the Class A city basketball league, are on the downgrade.

Losing to Winona, 35 to 20, at the Memorial building last night, the Columbians suffered their second defeat of the week and their third loss in the second round of the Class A league.

Winona took the lead at the start of the second period of the contest and stood off all of the Columbians' efforts to hold their own.

In the other contest on last night's Class A league card, the Pottery cagers had little trouble in defeating the Saxons, 57 to 39.

Diminutive Tom Nedelka ran wild to score 23 points and keep the Pottery in the lead all during the contest. The Pottery led, 17 to 8, at the close of the first period, 28 to 17 at half time, and 40 to 31 at the end of the third period.

Baseball's Old Guard Aroused by Comeback Hopes as Camps Open

Charley Grimm Talks of Returning To Active Duty; Chick Hafey Thinks He Can Again Return To Majors Via Minor Loop

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Three irrepressible, Babe Ruth, Walter Johnson and Rabbit Maranville, are conspicuously missing as the major league clans gather along the training trails from San Juan to Santa Catalina, but the first touches of spring meanness have aroused the comeback hopes among the old guardmen of baseball.

Mingling with the dulcet tones of Charley Grimm's banjo is talk of a return to active duty by the Chicago manager. It may be the climate, but Grimm says he is getting into shape to play first base, if and when young Phil Cavarretta, who won the regular job last year, shows any tendency to slip or a recurrence of stomach trouble that bothered him before.

Charles (Chick) Hafey, who dropped out of the game a year ago because of illness and retired to his California farm, also has spring fever. The one-time king of National league batsmen is only 33 years old and thinks he can return to competition. He prefers to try his luck in the Coast league, however, before seeking a major league job again.

WESLEYAN WINS AT WITTENBERG

Rally In Last Ten Minutes Gives Bishops The Victory

(By Associated Press)
Ohio Wesleyan won its second victory of the season over Wittenberg, 41 to 31, last night; Ashland defeated Kenyon, 35 to 26; Akron defeated Kent State, 47 to 28; Toledo beat Bowling Green, 40 to 24, and Franklin U. vanquished Wilmington, 46 to 37.

Ashland's victory was its first on its home floor this season and ended a nine-game losing streak. Kenyon grabbed an 11 to 1 lead, but Walte led Ashland to a 23-18 edge at the half.

Eighteen points by Clovis Stark, Wesleyan forward, proved the greatest asset of the invading Bishops, but the game was more evenly fought than the final score indicated. Wittenberg was ahead, 19 to 16, at the intermission and 10 minutes before the final gun the score was tied at 30-30.

Obtain Revenge
Akron obtained revenge for a defeat earlier this season at the hands of Kent State. The Zippers took the lead after the score had been tied three times in the first seven minutes and were never headed, although held scoreless from the field in 12 minutes of the second period.

Fifty-one free throws were attempted in the game and 29 made. The game was played at Akron.

In defeating Bowling Green, Toledo university gained revenge also. The game, played at Toledo, gave the Rockets a season record of nine victories in 11 starts in the conference and a grand total of 12 conquests in 16 games.

Cupp and Becht looped in 11 points apiece for the Rockets. Franklin university's victory at Columbus was its second of the season over Wilmington. Cordrey of Wilmington sank 21 points but his efforts weren't enough to offset Franklin's attack. Watts of Franklin tallied 18.

NOT long ago I was like some friends I have... low in spirits... run-down... out of sorts... tired easily and looked terrible. I knew I had no serious organic trouble so I reasoned sensibly... as my experience has since proven... that work, worry, colds and whatnot had just worn me down.

The confidence mother has always had in S.S.S. Tonic... which is still her stand-by when she feels run-down... convinced me I ought to try this Treatment... I started a course... the color began to come back to my skin... I felt better... I no longer tired easily and soon I felt that those red-blood-cells were back to so-called fighting strength... it is great to feel strong again and like my old self. © S.S.S. Co.

LET KIDNEYS FLUSH OUT 3 LBS. A DAY

Clean Out 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes

Nature put over 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters in your kidneys to strain the waste matter out of the blood. Kidneys should pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

When the passing of water is scanty, with smarting and burning, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your body may take up some of those poisons causing serious trouble. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and help the kidneys to flush out 3 pounds a day. Insist on Doan's Pills.

RINGING UP FATHER

OLLY AND HER PALS

"HIGH SCHOOL TRAGEDY"

by MAXINE CANTY

CHAPTER XXVI

From my superior knowledge, I explained to Dicky, "You see, these men are detectives, sent up here to watch Lloyd. There will be no chances taken on his disappearing along with the turkey."

"Oh!" Dicky was properly impressed. He was very reserved while meeting Bruce, who was also quiet and serious. We were a subdued group around the so-called festive board. Allen did not appear at all. Mother apologized for him, pleading that he was not well. Dad and I knew that he wasn't up to meeting Bruce.

Dicky and I kept the conversation on football at first. We were genuinely enthusiastic over the game we had seen, and I purposely dwelt on it in order to make the situation less strained.

"Do you play yourself?" inquired Bruce of Dicky.

"No. That's not my line. I'm built more for tennis, I guess, and a bit of stunting on the side. I don't carry much brown."

Bruce smiled.

"But," Dicky went on, "I should imagine that with your build, you must have been quite a football hero in your college days, Mr. Lloyd."

Bruce shook his head. "No, Richard, I never made the spotlight. I went out for tackle and played a few games, but I didn't get anywhere. Not quite enough of a bruiser, I guess."

Dicky nodded sympathetically. "Yeah, you sure have to be able to take it in that position."

I glanced at him suspiciously. That sounded like a dirty crack to me. He was innocently eating a turkey leg. No one ever accused Dicky of subtlety. But I still wonder.

Bruce and Dad retired to Dad's study after dinner. The rest of us sat around and wondered what they were saying to each other. Dicky never found out, for he left before they emerged. Then Atwater called for Bruce who thanked mother for her generous and kindly hospitality, and left with the officer. I pounced on Dad.

"What news?" I cried, "what news!"

"Not much. The young—the man refuses to talk as usual, even to me. I'm getting rather tired of it. I told him frankly that I didn't care to handle the case any longer unless he would be open with me. I said without much decoration that if he were guilty, he could be no worse; that if he were innocent, he would have to give me complete information in order for me to sustain his case."

"Did he have nothing to say then, Brian?" queried Mother.

"Not a great deal more. He did tell me that he knew he had acted peculiarly in running away, even in returning, but that he had seen no other course, that his activity was necessary to protect someone else."

"The woman, of course."

"Yes, so he admitted. I asked him who she was, and he shook his head, apologized, but would not tell. I then asked him where she was now."

"What did he say?" I blurted.

"He made a most dramatic answer: 'She sailed for Honolulu a week ago.'"

"For Honolulu? Then that was his reason for evading the law, for managing all that clever business; so that she could leave unmolested from Los Angeles. Could she have some connection with the murder? Could she be the guilty person?"

Dad shook his head. "I don't know, I'm just about ready to abandon him and the entire case!"

The next morning, the Inspector called me to come down to his office, since that Friday was a vacation day for me. I had to tell Mother the truth this time. She was more bewildered than anything else.

"Oh, dear," she almost moaned, "you, too! Your father has this difficult Lloyd, then Allen gets involved, and now you! My baby, in the midst of this horrid affair. And I never let you even read mystery stories! What will happen next!"

"There, Mother, it's just been fun so far. I'll tell you all that happens."

She was somewhat reconciled. I thought, when I left; at least she did not forbid my going.

The Inspector had called me because he was going to investigate the angle of the case that was my pet, the Perkins-Sardoni relationship. He had my closet all in readiness for me to take notes, and the persons to be interviewed were in other rooms waiting. First came Hym.

He was not able to add much to his first story, that he had seen Mr. Perkins come often to call on Miss Sinclair, that usually he came to return a book or take one, that he left early in the evening.

The next witness, if one could call her that, was Miss Sass. She is a mannish looking woman who always wears tailored suits, lets her straight, short hair get oily, and resents any interruption of her own plans. The kids think she is a pill.

"Miss Sass," began the Inspector, "we are checking up on some loose ends. We want to cover the callers at your apartment house on the night Miss Sinclair was murdered, pretty thoroughly. We thought you might be able to help."

"As I told you before, Inspector, I was out from 7:00 to 11:00 o'clock that night."

"So I understand. But one of the callers was Mr. Perkins. Since he is your principal, we would like to ask you a few questions in regard to him."

"All the more reason for not asking them of me, Inspector. It is not exactly polite for a teacher to be asked information about her superior."

"This need not be damaging. I should say, to him or to you. Furthermore, this is more or less a matter of routine."

How O'Brien kept his temper. I don't know. I am sure I could not have resisted taking her down a couple of pegs had I been in his place.

"What we want to know, Miss Sass, is first, whether it was Mr. Perkins' habit to call on many of his teachers."

"I am sure I don't know."

"Did he ever call on you or Miss Whelton?"

"He most certainly never did."

"But you have seen him calling at Miss Sinclair's?"

"Yes. We have met him in the hall and stopped for a moment's chat."

"Would you say these calls were social or were usually prompted by some particular errand?"

"How would I know? Whenever we saw him, he seemed to have a book under his arm, to which he generally referred somehow."

"Did he give you the impression that he was providing an excuse for the call?"

She shrugged her shoulders impatiently. "One can think what one pleases, I suppose."

"How frequent would you say

Mr. Perkins' calls were?"

"Two or three times a week."

"And at what hour did he leave?"

"Really! It is not my habit to sit in the hall with a stop watch and time my neighbor's visits! Your questions are most extraordinary. I have never seen him leave later than nine-thirty, and that is all I can say about it."

The Inspector decided it was time to close the interview.

"That is all quite helpful. Thank you very much, Miss Sass," he murmured, ushering her out of the door most hurriedly and skillfully. "Whew!" he said once she had gone, "a pleasant guide and friend for our young boys and girls!"

He let me out of my closet, picked up another paper on his desk, and considered it for a moment.

"Miss Julie, your sweet-natured school-ma'm substantiates the Perkins story, doesn't she? But earlier this morning I talked to the couple that live downstairs. At one point there is a discrepancy. Hym and the teachers on the second floor say Perkins left at nine-thirty, customarily. This couple who play bridge a great deal and entertain often, have seen him leaving the apartment building as late as midnight. One is naturally curious to know where he spent those hours. Surely not suspended between the first and second floors! I think your friend Mrs. Sardoni will bear further questioning."

I must have looked as pleading as I felt. He continued, "Come along, Miss Julie. You deserve to be in on this. And since Perkins has already accused you of spying on him, it won't do us any good to keep your assisting me a secret."

Boy, was I thrilled! Here I was, Julie Martin, acknowledged assistant to Inspector O'Brien and going out to interview the mysterious Mrs. Sardoni!

Fiddlesticks

You're a funny talking man to be selling cigarettes. You talk like they are cure-alls.

I've known this for a long time ... cigarettes cause no ills and cure no ailments.

You mean ALL cigarettes ...

Yes, at some time or other I have just about tried them all and what I say goes for all of them.

Seriously ...

There is probably only one man on earth who would believe it if we told you that a cigarette would cure what ails you.

On the other hand ...

There are millions of smokers who will testify, without publicity, as to the pleasure and enjoyment which they get from smoking a good cigarette.
